

JUDGES TO SELECT QUEEN AT THEATRE MONDAY EVENING

Selection Will Be Made At Grand Theatre For Queen of Week

ARRANGE DETAILS

District Chairmen Report Several Floats Will Be In The Parade

Judges to select the queen of "Greater Lower Bucks Week" have been named by the committee conducting the contest. The judges are Mary Lynch, Model Placement secretary of June McAdam Modelling School, Phila.; Miss "Rusty" Austin, of Station WBD, Morrisville. A male judge will be announced at a later date.

The judging will take place in the Grand Theatre, Monday evening, at eight o'clock.

Other details for "Greater Lower Bucks Week" are progressing, according to reports made by district chairman at a meeting of the general committee last evening.

Karl Ottolini, Falls township, informed the committee that Fallington Fire Co., Girl Scouts and other groups would represent the district. The Warner Sand Co. will have a float in the Falls township section.

Harry Lahr, president Bucks County Rescue Squad, informed the committee that the entire equipment of the squad will be in the parade. Lahr said this would in no way interfere with the squad rendering emergency service. The squad is equipped with "walkie-talkie" and radio communication.

BRISTOL YOUTH TO RUN THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Boys Will Be Elected On Monday Morning At 10:00

MUNICIPAL BUILDING

Youth officials to operate the local government as one of the activities of "Greater Lower Bucks Week," July 20-26, inclusive, will be elected next Monday morning, July 21, at the municipal building here.

All boys interested in becoming candidates for the borough offices are requested to report to the municipal building at 10:30 Monday morning, July 21. At that time nominations and elections will be conducted to determine the youths who will operate the Bristol government for the day.

If enough boys appear, the following offices will be filled: burgess, councilmen, fire chief and police chief. It is hoped that enough will display interest in their civic government to provide a crowd large enough to vote by acclamation. Any boy who has had

PLAN TO REMOVE SINGLE TOLL-BOOTH AT BRIDGE SO AS TO HANDLE HEAVY TRAFFIC OVER SPAN HERE

To eliminate congestion during peak hours on the Burlington-Bristol bridge, the Burlington County Bridge Commission is planning to remove the single toll-booth at the center of the span, and erect two new toll-booths on the span approach.

In a report which is being handed to all patrons of the bridge, Howard R. Yocum, commission chairman, explained that the project is being held up by the state highway department, which owns the land upon which the new toll-booths would be erected.

The highway department has informed the commission, Yocum said, that additional laws would be necessary before this project can be carried out.

Pointing out that traffic on the span has been far greater than anticipated, the report states that from Jan. 1 through June 30, a total of 889,320 vehicles has crossed the bridge.

The report compares this figure with the 616,422 vehicles which used the span during the first six months of 1951, the 463,418 traffic count in 1950, the 378,664 vehicles in 1949 and 304,143 during the same period in 1948.

COMPLETE ADDITION TO CORNWELLS OFFICE

Bell Telephone Co. Can Accommodate 280 More Subscribers in Area

MUNICIPAL BUILDING

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania has just completed an addition to the equipment in the Cornwells central office, which will improve service and make it possible for the office to serve about 280 more subscribers. It was announced today by William J. Wohlhagen, local manager.

The project cost approximately $17,000, he said. In addition, the company is spending about $10,000 more this year in building new lines in the Cornwells area.

All those now waiting for service in this section are located in places where no cable or wire lines are available to connect them with the office. Wohlhagen said. They will receive service as rapidly as new line construction permits, he added, but in some cases there will still be delays of some months.

Rotary Speaker Shows How "Speech Betrays"

ANDALUSIA, July 17—Bensalem Rotary Club had 33 in attendance at a baked ham dinner, served by the Ladies Guild in King Hall, here, Tuesday evening.

The group heard an interesting talk by Clarence L. Walker, clerk of the Court of Common Pleas, N. J., Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, known as a humorist, showed how "speech betrays" through cautious, hesitant and various forms of speech. Mr. Walker ended with serious thought concerning the spiritual life, conduct, and church-going as an example to the younger generation.

TOKYO GETS FACE LIFTING; STREET SIGNS MAY STAY

Japanese Heartsick With Downtown Area Having American Atmosphere

ARMY LEAVING STORE

Main PX in Capital Being Vacated for Another Section

The Japanese people, happy in their new independence and freedom under the peace treaty, are giving Tokyo a face-lifting to make it more Japanese again after the many years of Americanizing under the occupation. Howard Handelman, International News Service Far Eastern director who covered the Pacific War and has been in Japan through all its post-war phases, describes the changes taking place in the following informal "Memo" to readers of the COURIER.

"MEMO FROM TOKYO" By Howard Handelman (Far Eastern Director, INS)

Tokyo is getting a Japanese face lifting. For a long time the American occupation gave the capital such an American atmosphere that it made many Japanese heartsick even to visit town.

Now the Americans are making themselves as inconspicuous as possible. They have to in order to belie the Communist propaganda charge that the San Francisco Peace Treaty merely solidified foreign occupation in a new form. And as the Americans move their trappings from downtown Tokyo,

MOTORISTS' SAFETY PROGRAM IS ISSUED

Claim Over 50% of Average Motorists' Driving Done In Vacation Months

CHECK TIRES, BRAKES

John T. Mladjen, Chairman of the Bucks County Safety Council, issued today a six-point safety program for motorists. According to Mladjen, more than 50 per cent of the average motorists' driving is done in these vacation months. Many accidents could be avoided if motorists would take a few precautionary measures.

First: Give tires a thorough check. Treads and bodies should be inspected. Check to see if tires have been switched from wheel to wheel recently.

Check brakes: Be sure that brake linings are in good condition, and that brakes are properly adjusted. Check fluid in the hydraulic system.

Be sure that the steering system is adjusted and lubricated properly. It should operate without loss.

$263,714 Defense Bonds Sold During Month of June

Charles E. Hunter, chairman Bucks County Defense Bonds Advisory Committee, announced today that during the month of June an additional $263,714 in purchases of United States Defense Bonds were chalked up by the people of Bucks County.

"This shows the increasing popularity with which the improved Series E three per cent Defense Bonds are being received, and the initial interest that is being accorded the new Series H three per cent income Bonds," Mr. Hunter said.

"The new J and K Bonds, replacing the F and G Series, are also being bought in significant quantities," he continued.

"Total sales for the State of all Series U. S. Defense Bonds for June 1952 amounted to $30,627,933 against a June 1951 figure of $27,299,337. This gain indicates that the people of Pennsylvania are stepping up their power to save and are contributing materially to the defense of their nation," he concluded.

National Kitten Week Now Being Observed

This week is being observed as National Kitten Week throughout the nation, and Bristol Branch of Bucks County S. P. C. A. urges all owners of small kittens to give them special care during these hot days.

Suggestions are: "Do not allow children to 'maul' them and carry them around all day; teach the children to be kind to the kittens and they will want for no better playmate; be sure that they have a shaded place in which to relax or leave them indoors out of the terrific heat."

"Make sure there is always fresh water at the pet's disposal. Do not feed too heavy in hot weather (and never give them chicken bones or fish bones). When you deflea your kitten be sure it is flea powder made for cats."

MANY PICNICS BOOKED FOR CHALFONT PARK

Reservations Are Made To Accommodate About 25,000 Next Week

LISTS THOSE BOOKED

Reservations have been made for approximately 25,000 people for picnics and outings at Forest Park, Chalfont, during the next week.

The annual outing of the Heintz Manufacturing Company, Phila., for its employees and their families will bring 15,000 people to the Bucks county park on July 19 for a gala sports program and an afternoon vaudeville show.

On Wednesday the Chatline Store, Norristown, had a family picnic at the park.

The Thursday schedule calls for outings of the Montgomery Baptist Church, Montgomery Square; the William McLoughlin Co., Phila.; and the Phila. offices of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Picnics scheduled for July 20 include the Polish-American String Band, winners of the Phila. Mummers' Parade; Paradise Post No. 788, American Legion, Phila.; British Legion, Boy Scout Troop No. 33, Phila.; Camera Club of Phila.; Pittman Dunn Laboratory of the Frankford Arsenal; Gulf Oil Co. Bowling League, Phila.; Arch Street Athletic Club and Monahan A. C., both of Phila.

A big picnic scheduled for July 24, that will attract thousands of Philadelphians is the Union Colored Sunday School Association.

TERRACE II FIGHTER PILOT IS KILLED

1st Lt. Austin W. Beetle, Jr., Bails Out Into The Korean Waters

WORLD WAR II "VET"

A Bristol Terrace man, father of two children, has been killed in action over Korea waters, his wife has been informed.

The victim is 1st Lt. Austin W. Beetle, Jr., whose 32nd birthday anniversary would have occurred tomorrow. He was the husband of Marie Stradling Beetle, 502 Court B, Terrace II.

Lt. Beetle, piloting a Sabre-jet F-86, was on a mission July 4th over Korea, when his flight became engaged with enemy MiG-15 fighters. Beetle's craft was struck by enemy fire, and he parachuted into the water. He had disappeared before air-sea rescue units reached him 45 seconds later.

According to Mrs. Beetle, her husband had been in World War II, and was recalled to Air Force service in June, 1951. He had left California last June 7th, and been

Bristol Dentist Stricken While Fishing at Sea

A well-known Bristol dentist, Dr. John J. Hargrave, 72, 401 Radcliffe street, was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday afternoon at two o'clock while at sea aboard a pleasure fishing boat.

Dr. Hargrave was admitted to Short Memorial Hospital, Somers Point, N. J. Captain Theodore Allen, of the boat and Captain Lew, said Hargrave became semi-conscious and partially paralyzed after he was stricken about six miles off Ocean City, N. J. They radioed to land to tell of Dr. Hargrave's condition. Mrs. Hargrave was sewing at the dock. The boat docked at Fourth street, more than an hour later.

Police removed the doctor to the hospital. A representative of the family reported this morning that Dr. Hargrave was still unconscious.

IT CANNOT LAST FOREVER

Such is the preoccupation of the human being with affairs of the moment, it is difficult to project thoughts ahead and to visualize that in two months schools will be under way again, and in three months snow will be falling along the northern border of the country. But to many a person, caught in a heat wave, that word snow is something to drool over. In fact, so rapidly do seasons succeed one another, that not many deep thinkers have dwelt on the thought that days are already becoming shorter. Several weeks have passed since the longest day of the year.

Of course, this does not mean that ere long it will be dark when the breadwinner returns home from toil, but midsummer is here and in a few weeks progress toward autumn will be definitely speeded up.

Down on the farm quite a few chores remain to be performed before the relative hiatus of winter sets in, and there seems less and less time in which to do them. And the small town and suburban gardener seems to find it more difficult day by day to keep up with the weeds and the crops.

But, to return to daydreaming, in the far north near-zero temperatures and snow are only weeks away. What a blissful thought—in the midst of a July heat wave, that is.

RASPBERRIES

Everyone has his favorite berry and the proper test of a favorite is the vivid quality of the memories that it evokes. Thus did Henry Thoreau recall his at the height of the raspberry season in the later summer of the year 1857—a low scarlet mountain, garnishing the head of the table in a dish two feet across.

Then also does one recall from out of the dim depths of childhood in the long lost day when one was seen but not heard, that curious grating sound as one's elders solemnly chomped them down. And the places where they grew. Why is it that they always seemed sweetest when picked from the bushes that grew in the thickest of thickets where the outside drain from the kitchen sink poured out on the open ground. Unsatisfactory yes, but those raspberries were large, firm, pink, and so utterly delectable and succulent that one could never pick a berry basket full of them because he stopped to eat so many.

But what was even better was on a camping trip if you were handy to burnt land or to the clearing near an old camp, to gather a black hat full of wild scarlet raspberries in less than jig time. Or to step out into your own raspberry patch where they gleamed in red clusters and pick yourself a bowl full before breakfast.

Planes go faster, it is learned, if unpainted. That is not always true of blondes.

Tokyo Gets Face Lifting; Street Signs May Stay

the Japanese atmosphere is being restored.

There even is talk of pulling down the English language signs that mark the streets. Japan never had street names before the Americans came in. Japanese used neighborhood and section names to help them find places. To Americans who came to Tokyo in 1945 this was a hopeless maze. The provost marshal tackled up big street signs. There now are avenues from "A" to "Z" and streets from 4th to 60th, with lots of gaps in both letters and numbers.

Some Japanese want to keep the signs, though, they argue if Tokyo is to be a tourist attraction, foreigners are going to have to have guideposts and the ones the provost marshal put up are about as good as anybody can figure out for this city that just grew and grew around a fishing village and a minor castle.

The Japanese can do what they like with the street signs. But the Americans are moving everything else of theirs away from downtown. The brown-brick Imperial Hotel has been Japanese a long time now. The American generals and colonels moved out in March. Actually, although it is Japanese owned and operated, the Imperial remains predominantly foreign.

When the American army brass moved out the better-heeled American and other foreign businessmen moved in. Few Japanese live there.

The army is moving out of its Tokyo main PX, the seven-story department store which was the American shopping center in the whole Far East for many years. The PX sold everything from Japanese gold-fish to American refrigerators and Chinese rugs. A new main PX is being established at Grant Heights, the American army residential area about an hour out of town, in an isolated place where few Japanese will have occasion to see Americans.

Grant Heights is a self-sufficient community, a typical American housing development with shops, a theater, a big club, a school, a chapel and everything else an American community needs. Another big housing area, Washington Heights, is inside Tokyo, near Meiji Park, and it too will remain an American community.

Across the street from the Imperial hotel is the soft-ball diamond, with bleachers and fences and sodded outfield, that the Americans built long ago and called "Doolittle Field" in honor of the Tokyo raider. Americans still use the field, but so do Japanese teams now. And the big "Doolittle Field" sign has long since been removed.

The special license plates for occupation-owned automobiles won't be seen after July. These plates, marked "JAPCO" for "Japanese Occupation," were the mark of privilege on the roads in Japan for most of the six and a half years of the occupation. Now American soldiers and generals and everybody else will bolt regular Japanese license plates on their automobiles and Japanese cops will be able to arrest them just like anybody else.

For several years now the Japanese have been sprucing up their capital city on their own. Japanese are neon-crazy, not only downtown but even out in the little neighborhoods. Neighborhood shopping streets that once were dark because of power shortages now are bright with neon.

Tokyo now has its established automobile row on a broad street right near the American Embassy, and a smaller automobile section is growing on the other side of town, led by the Japanese company that sells Chevrolet's here. Big American automobiles are still popular, but the smaller British and French cars are growing in popularity fast. In addition to being easier to handle in the rock-walled lanes that make up a good part of the city's residential areas, the smaller cars are more convenient for the downtown area which has far more automobile traffic now than it can handle well.

BANK FEATURES AREA IN BUSINESS DIGEST

"Workshops On The Delaware" is Title of Article by Federal Reserve Bank

INCLUDES BUCKS CO.

Philadelphia is a symphony of industry, according to the July Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. The Review's feature article, entitled "Workshops on the Delaware," is the fifth and last in a series dealing with business developments along the river. Preceding articles in the series were "Times and Tides on the Delaware," "Ships on the Delaware," "Molecules on the Delaware," and "Steel on the Delaware."

Philadelphia is the center of an eight-county metropolitan area, which is one of the country's foremost manufacturing regions. More than 8,000 manufacturing establishments employ over a half million industrial workers. The region is highly diversified, with no major industry employing more than 10 percent of the total factory workers. In May of this year there was a fifty-fifty distribution of workers among plants making durables, such as metals and machinery, and nondurables such as textiles, food, and apparel.

The region is diversified not only in the sense that it has most industries represented, but it also has a great variety with respect to size of plant, nature of organization and type of product manufactured. It has old concerns which have been in continuous operation for over a century, and there are some as new as electronics and helicopters. Some of the plants are small, employing only a few workers in contrast with huge establishments with more than 10,000 workers on the payrolls. Some are highly specialized and others are completely integrated. Many are family-owned and others are publicly owned corporate giants. Unlike Pittsburgh, which is predominantly a steel city, or Detroit which is automotive, Philadelphia is a medley of manufacturing.

Philadelphia is the center of a great manufacturing area for a number of reasons—a good port, a strategic inland position, a rich agricultural and mineral hinterland, and the original establishment of a spirit of tolerance which attracted a mixture of people among whom were the world's ablest craftsmen.

At mid-century, Philadelphia is consolidating its natural advantages and strengthening its industrial structure. Plants throughout the Delaware valley from Trenton to Wilmington are spending huge sums to expand industrial capacity and to modernize their machinery and equipment. The railroads and utilities are improving their facilities, the port is being renovated, and the river channels are being dredged and deepened.

There is abundant evidence, says the Bank in conclusion, of industrial revival on the Delaware, not only in Philadelphia but also throughout the entire metropolitan area. More and more, tradition and convention are giving place to change and innovation. At mid-century, the industrial opportunities and potentialities are just as great as they were for the pioneers.

RECIPES

Tuna Rabbit

2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups sharp American Cheese, grated
1-7 oz. can flaked tuna fish
1 1/2 cups corn soya shreds
Melt butter over hot water; stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thickened stirring frequently. Add Worcestershire sauce, cheese and flaked tuna fish. Stir until cheese is melted and tuna fish is hot. Serve immediately over heated corn soya shreds, or serve in individual casseroles with corn soya shreds sprinkled on top. Yield: 6 servings (1/2 cup per serving).

Canned Bran Brown Bread
1 cup all-bran
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
1/2 cup hot water
1 egg

One Chin Is Enough for You

When you give your face its bedtime creaming, take a few extra minutes to cream and massage the chin area, too.

By HELEN FOLLETT

WATCH the behavior of your chin. The habit of thrusting it out or of drawing it in forms lines in the soft tissues at its base. Perhaps you fancy that chins don't change. They do! And not always for the better. Oftentimes they develop a companion chin, for which no woman has any use whatsoever and which she will hate like sin. Horrid lines form between chins. When this happens, youthful appearance has departed. A woman has a "settled look" that settles her chances of taking any beauty prizes.

Vigorous massage will help to break up this superabundant tissue. The application of cold compresses or ice friction is effective in case your chin has gone tanned. But catch that double trouble early.

At Bedtime

After washing your face at bedtime, when the flesh is warm and glowing, see that the skin surface is dry as a bone and then apply a heavy emollient.

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Measure bran, raisins, shortening and molasses into mixing bowl. Add hot water, stirring until shortening is melted. Add egg and beat well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon; add to bran mixture. Stir until combined. Fill 2 greased cans (baked bean cans, 4 1/2 inches deep, 2 1/2 inches across) about 3/4 full; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Remove from cans, slice and serve hot. Yield: 2 loaves, 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches.

Frozen Lemon Crunch
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups corn flakes
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
2 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream
Melt butter in heavy frying pan. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; stir into melted butter with brown sugar and nuts. Cook, stirring constantly, until sugar melts and caramelizes slightly. Cool.
Beat egg yolks and sugar in top of double boiler until thick and creamy. Cook over hot water about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in lemon juice; cool.
Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold with whipped cream into the cooled egg yolk mixture. Pour into freezing tray which has been lined with waxed paper. Sprinkle crunch mixture over top. Freeze until firm. Cut into wedge-shaped pieces. Yield: 8 servings.

USED UP

VIENNA—(INS)—An Austrian medical authority asserted that women of the 20th century are being "used up" at a much greater degree than men. Dr. Leopold Schoenbauer, dean of Austria's surgeons, explained women are

Pick up the flesh between thumb and first finger and roll it. By that means you will break down fat cells that form this unbecoming pouch. Start under the center of your chin, go nipping toward the sides. Don't pull the flesh out, just roll it.

Stroke with flattened fingers from the upper part of your throat out toward your ears. Knead the flesh with your knuckles. So far, so good.

Toning Treatment

To avoid flabbiness, it is necessary to have a toning treatment. This can be given by frisking an ice cube on these areas. And while you are at it, you might as well go all over your face and neck which have been previously creamed. Ice brings a quick reaction of the blood streams, the blood streams bring nourishment to impoverished cells.

If you use a chin strap at night, have it hold a piece of gauze that has been wrung out in ice-cold astringent or skin tonic.

"used up" much more than men by doing a lot of things, formerly only done by men, for which they are neither physically nor mentally prepared at the present time.

USE AMBULANCES

Transported yesterday in ambulances of Bucks County Rescue Squad were: Mrs. Louis Frederick, Langhorne R. D. 2, to McKinley hospital, Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Marlin, removed from Phila. to 822 Emily avenue, Croydon; Mrs. Ruth Schum, 717 Cedar avenue, Croydon, to Nazareth hospital, Phila.; Mrs. Narveen Barrow, Oxford Valley Trailer Camp, to Abington hospital; baby Wilhelm, three days old, near Durham road, Middletown township, transferred from Harriman hospital to St. Francis hospital, Trenton, N. J.

BANK FEATURES AREA
IN BUSINESS DIGEST

"Workshops On The Delaware" is Title of Article by Federal Reserve Bank

INCLUDES BUCKS CO.

Philadelphia is a symphony of industry, according to the July Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia. The Review's feature article, entitled "Workshops on the Delaware," is the fifth and last in a series dealing with business developments along the river. Preceding articles in the series were "Times and Tides on the Delaware," "Ships on the Delaware," "Molecules on the Delaware," and "Steel on the Delaware."

Philadelphia is the center of an eight-county metropolitan area, which is one of the country's foremost manufacturing regions. More than 8,000 manufacturing establishments employ over a half million industrial workers. The region is highly diversified, with no major industry employing more than 10 per cent of the total factory workers. In May of this year there was a fifty-fifty distribution of workers among plants making durables, such as metals and machinery, and nondurables such as textiles, food, and apparel.

The region is diversified not only in the sense that it has most industries represented, but it also has a great variety with respect to size of plant, nature of organization and type of product manufactured. It has old concerns which have been in continuous operation for over a century, and there are some as new as electronics and helicopters. Some of the plants are small, employing only a few workers in contrast with huge establishments with more than 10,000 workers on the payrolls. Some are highly specialized and others are completely integrated. Many are family-owned and others are publicly owned corporate giants. Unlike Pittsburgh, which is predominantly a steel city, or Detroit which is automotive, Philadelphia is a medley of manufacturing.

Philadelphia is the center of a great manufacturing area for a number of reasons—a good port, a strategic inland position, a rich agricultural and mineral hinterland, and the original establishment of a spirit of tolerance which attracted a mixture of people among whom were the world's ablest craftsmen.

At mid-century, Philadelphia is consolidating its natural advantages and strengthening its industrial structure. Plants throughout the Delaware valley from Trenton to Wilmington are spending huge sums to expand industrial capacity and to modernize their machinery and equipment. The railroads and utilities are improving their facilities, the port is being renovated, and the river channels are being dredged and deepened.

There is abundant evidence, says the Bank in conclusion, of industrial revival on the Delaware, not only in Philadelphia but also throughout the entire metropolitan area. More and more, tradition and convention are giving place to change and innovation. At mid-century, the industrial opportunities and potentialities are just as great as they were for the pioneers.

RECIPES

Tuna Rabbit
2 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups sharp American Cheese, grated
1-7 oz. can flaked tuna fish
1 1/2 cups corn soya shreds
Melt butter over hot water; stir in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring frequently. Add Worcestershire sauce, cheese and flaked tuna fish. Stir until cheese is melted and tuna fish is hot. Serve immediately over heated corn soya shreds, or serve in individual casseroles with corn soya shreds sprinkled on top. Yield: 6 servings (1/2 cup per serving).

Canned Bran Brown Bread
1 cup all-bran
1/2 cup seedless raisins
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 cup New Orleans molasses
1 cup hot water
1 egg

One Chin Is Enough for You

When you give your face its bedtime creaming, take a few extra minutes to cream and massage the chin area, too.

BY HELEN FOLLETT
WATCH the behavior of your chin. The habit of thrusting it out or drawing it in forms lines in the soft tissues at its base. Perhaps you fancy that chins don't change. They do! And not always for the better. Oftentimes they develop a companion chin, for which no woman has any use whatsoever and which she will hate like sin. Horrid lines form between chins. When this happens, youthful appearance has departed. A woman has a "settled look" that settles her chances of taking any beauty prizes.

Vigorous massage will help to break up this superabundant tissue. The application of cold compresses or ice friction is effective in case your chin has gone tandem. But catch that double trouble early.

At Bedtime
After washing your face at bedtime, when the flesh is warm and glowing, see that the skin surface is dry as a bone and then apply a heavy emollient.

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Measure bran, raisins, shortening and molasses into mixing bowl. Add hot water, stirring until shortening is melted. Add egg and beat well. Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon; add to bran mixture. Stir until combined. Fill 2 greased cans (baked bean cans, 4 1/2 inches deep, 2 1/2 inches across) about 3/4 full; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Remove from cans, slice and serve hot. Yield: 2 loaves, 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches.

Frozen Lemon Crunch
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups corn flakes
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts
3 eggs, separated
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup whipping cream
Melt butter in heavy frying pan. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs; stir into melted butter with brown sugar and nuts. Cook, stirring constantly, until sugar melts and caramelizes slightly. Cool.

Beat egg yolks and sugar in top of double boiler until thick and creamy. Cook over hot water about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Stir in lemon juice; cool.
Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry; fold with whipped cream into the cooled egg yolk mixture. Pour into freezing tray which has been lined with waxed paper. Sprinkle crunch mixture over top. Freeze until firm. Cut into wedge-shaped pieces. Yield: 8 servings.

USED UP
VIENNA—(INS)—An Austrian medical authority asserted that women of the 20th century are being "used up" at a much greater degree than men. Dr. Leopold Schoenbauer, dean of Austria's surgeons, explained women are

Pick up the flesh between thumb and first finger and roll it. By that means you will break down fat cells that form this unbecoming pouch. Start under the center of your chin, go nipping toward the sides. Don't pull the flesh out, just roll it.
Stroke with flattened fingers from the upper part of your throat out toward your ears. Knead the flesh with your knuckles. So far, so good.

Toning Treatment
To avoid flabbiness, it is necessary to have a toning treatment. This can be given by frisking an ice cube on these areas. And while you are at it, you might as well go all over your face and neck which have been previously creamed. Ice brings a quick reaction of the blood streams, the blood streams bring nourishment to impoverished cells.

If you use a chin strap at night, have it hold a piece of gauze that has been wrung out in ice-cold astringent or skin tonic.

"used up" much more than men by doing a lot of things, formerly only done by men, for which they are neither physically nor mentally prepared at the present time.

USE AMBULANCES

"Student Prince" is To Have Two Weeks' Run at Music Circus

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., July 17—Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince" with a talented cast headed by Glenn Burris, Jo Sullivan and Gale Sherwood will open at St. John Terrell's Music Circus, on July 22 for a two week's engagement.

The popular music in this favorite Romberg operetta includes: "Just We Two," "Deep In My Heart," the lively "Drinking Song," "Student Marching Song," "Golden Days" and "Come Boys, Let's Be Gay Boys."

Returning to Lambertville to play the role of Prince Karl is Glenn Burris who is known to Music Circus audiences for his delightful singing in "Die Fledermaus" last season. Making her Music Circus debut in the role of Kathie, the maid, will be petite Jo Sullivan who was last on Broadway in Benjamin Britten's "Let's Make An Opera."

Gale Sherwood (Princess Margaret) has been featured at the Sacramento Music Circus this season and last and she, too, is making her Lambertville debut. Miss Sherwood is a recruit from Hollywood where she appeared in such films as "Janie," "Song of My Heart" and "Rocky." Paul Reed (Lutz) is an old Music Circus favorite, having appeared here in numerous shows during the 1949 and 1950 seasons. Victor Morley (Von Mark) has a long and distinguished career in the theatre both as an actor and a director.

overseas less than one month when he met his death. It was a few days after she was informed that her husband was missing in action that she was notified of his death. He was on his second mission at the time of the tragedy, Mrs. Beetle says.

Lt. Beetle is also survived by a daughter, Marie Elaine, five years; a son "Jack", nine; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin W. Beetle, Sr., Floral Park, N. Y.; a sister and five brothers. One of his brothers is with the army in Germany; one is training with the Marines in North Carolina; and another, a member of the Air Force, is recovering from serious injuries sustained in an automobile accident, he being in a hospital at Portsmouth, Va.

Prior to returning to the service, Lt. Beetle was employed by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., having Philadelphia and Bristol territory. The family formerly lived in Morrisville, coming to Bristol Terrace five years ago. While her husband was in training again, Mrs. Beetle and children lived near his bases. Training took place at Berry Field, Tenn.; Williams Field, Arizona; and at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada.

The pilot was a former athlete at Morrisville High School.

Arrangements are being made for an airplane to tow advertising banners over the area starting Sunday to give the event this unique form of publicity. Plans are being made to have the queen judging contest televised.

Bensalem township expects to have two floats, one of them very unique.

Clifford Hagerman, Bristol fire chief, reported he had sent out 29 invitations to rescue squads and fire companies in this area.

Robert B. Downing, co-chairman of the parade committee, illustrated upon a blackboard the formation of the parade units with the head of the parade forming at the Bristol Post Office, Beaver and Prospect street. Downing later will issue marshalling orders and complete details. He said that there would be at least 10 Drum and Bugle corps in the parade.

Community Improvement Ass'n Discusses Work

NEWPORTVILLE, July 17—Fergusonville Community Center and Improvement Association held a meeting Monday evening with vice-president James Weston presiding.

Girls Club president, Carol Kinney, gave her report. Plans were discussed for a swimming party and "doggie" roast.

Boys Club report was made. The boys' baseball team, after Sunday's game, is in 3rd place in Lower Bucks County Youth League Conference, tied with St. Ann's team.

The Youth League has planned an all star game for Aug. 10th at Memorial field, Bristol. All donations at this game will be turned over to the "Mike" Murphy fund.

Manager chosen for this game is Vito Delia from St. Ann's and assistant manager, George McCay, Fergusonville.

Improvement committee chairman, Roy Hansen, gave a report.

A motion was passed that only the treasurer of each sponsored group can secure money from the community treasurer and the three signing officers of the center be the only ones necessary when drawing money from their accounts.

A motion was passed to expend not more than $25 for erection of basketball and volley ball courts, the improvement committee to handle same.

A discussion concerned a sponsor for younger boys.

Report of July 4th parade was made. Expenditures totaled $103.03.

The improvement committee will hold a meeting on July 25th at eight p. m.

The third reading of the Amendment to Article V. of the By-Laws was read.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, host and hostesses being James Weston, Mrs. John Maurer and Mrs. James Doran. Nomination of officers will take place at the Aug. 14th meeting.

"Student Prince" is To Have Two Weeks' Run at Music Circus

LAMBERTVILLE, N. J., July 17.—Sigmund Romberg's "The Student Prince" with a talented cast headed by Glenn Burris, Jo Sullivan and Gale Sherwood will open at St. John Terrell's Music Circus, on July 22 for a two week's engagement.

The popular music in this favorite Romberg opera includes: "Just We Two," "Deep In My Heart," the lively "Drinking Song," "Student Marching Song," "Golden Days" and "Come Boys, Let's Be Gay Boys."

Returning to Lambertville to play the role of Prince Karl is Glenn Burris who is known to Music Circus audiences for his delightful singing in "Die Fledermaus" last season. Making her Music Circus debut in the role of Kathie, the maid, will be petite Jo Sullivan who was last on Broadway in Benjamin Britten's "Let's Make An Opera."

Gale Sherwood (Princess Margaret) has been featured at the Sacramento Music Circus this season and last and she, too, is making her Lambertville debut. Miss Sherwood is a recruit from Hollywood where she appeared in such films as "Janie," "Song Of My Heart" and "Rocky." Paul Reed (Lutz) is an old Music Circus favorite, having appeared here in numerous shows during the 1949 and 1950 seasons. Victor Morley (Von Mark) has a long and distinguished career in the theatre both as an actor and a director.

motion. Be sure that there is not too much "play" in the steering wheel, and that all connections are free from excessive wear.

Check wheel alignment and balance. Front wheels that are not in proper alignment are responsible for many thousands of highway accidents.

Shock absorbers need inspection and adjustment.

Motorists, remember that although your car is in perfect operating condition, you cannot enjoy a maximum degree of safety unless you are constantly alert and drive cautiously. Remember speed is relative and should be consistent with road and traffic conditions.

A few additional points to keep in mind: Don't pass on hills or curves. Follow the driver ahead at a safe stopping distance. Don't pass until you can see the road is clear. Don't drive when you are fatigued. Drive at moderate sustained speeds.

For a safe vacation have your car checked thoroughly and remember these safety rules.

overseas less than one month when he met his death. It was a few days after she was informed that her husband was missing in action that he was notified of his death. He was on his second mission at the time of the tragedy, Mrs. Beetle says.

Lt. Beetle is also survived by a daughter, Marie Elaine, five years; a son "Jack", nine; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin W. Beetle, Sr., Floral Park, N. Y.; a sister and five brothers. One of his brothers is with the army in Germany; one is training with the Marines in North Carolina; and another, a member of the Air Force, is recovering from serious injuries sustained in an automobile accident, he being in a hospital at Portsmouth, Va.

Prior to returning to the service, Lt. Beetle was employed by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., having Philadelphia and Bristol territory.

The family formerly lived in Morrisville, coming to Bristol Terrace five years ago. While her husband was in training again, Mrs. Beetle and children lived near his bases. Training took place at Berry Field, Tenn.; Williams Field, Arizona; and at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada.

The pilot was a former athlete at Morrisville High School.

FIFTH WARD GETS A TIGHTER GRIP ON THE LEAGUE LEAD

Fifth Ward Sporting Club increased its lead on first place in the Bristol Softball League to three and one-half games by whipping the Pacific Steel nine, 168, last evening on Memorial field.

The Warders took the lead in the third inning by scoring six times. In this frame, Stan Partyka crashed out a home run with the bags loaded. The winners put the tilt on ice in the last two frames by counting seven times. Ray Pierandozzi hit a homer in the seventh with two on.

Fifth Ward had 12 hits in the contest and were aided by seven passes. Pierandozzi led the batters with three out of four. For the Pacific team, Tom Ruggieri, Frank Lucenti, and Vince DiTanna had two hits each. The latter led off in the seventh with a home run and earlier in the game had a two-bagger.

County Fire Police Elect Officers

tended the meeting at which Raymond Strunk, president, Quaker-town, presided. In order to be a member of this organization, a man must be an active member of a fire company. The duties of the men are to direct traffic at fires and to control crowds on the scene. The men have police powers in such instances.

Candidates for officers for the 1952-1953 term were presented by the secretary, who cast the vote necessary for their election. Officers elected were as follows: Raymond Strunk, president; Charles Roeschen, 1st vice-president, Trevoise; Robert Goulding, 2nd vice-president, Erwinna; Rudy Ober, holtzer, secretary, Trevoise Heights; William Jefferson, assistant secretary, Erwinna; William Undukof, financial secretary, Quaker-town; Harry Heller, treasurer, Trevoise; George Wright, trustee, Trevoise; Leonard Roberts, fire marshal, Trevoise; and Robert Graham, chaplain, Chalfont.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite, Doylestown, had been invited as special guest. He spoke briefly, giving credit to the fire police for their work and complimenting the group on its large attendance in such hot weather.

The fire marshal reported that the next fire school will open in Quakertown on September 17. This will be the first course for firemen in the upper end of the county. An advanced course will be offered upon completion of this one, for all county firemen who have had the beginners' course.

It was announced that the county commissioners had appointed Robert Graham deputy sheriff to investigate fires. This followed an almost two-year effort to secure a fire marshal on county payroll.

The secretary read a letter from the University of Pennsylvania, which is seeking the aid of the organization in a survey being made at the institution. The university is making a study of the growth of activities in Bucks county and is seeking completion of a questionnaire on the subject. The members present voted in favor of a resolution to co-operate with the survey.

Fire Marshal Leonard Roberts made two reports, one for the past two months and the other an annual one. In the first he listed 69 alarms; 124 hours of service; 239 men on duty; 133 miles traveled; and one arrest made. The arrest, involving a ten dollar fine, was made when a man drove over the hose being used at the recent feed mill fire at Milford Square. In the annual report there were 364 alarms; 468 hours of service; 1,213 men on duty; 678 miles traveled;

Sportsmanlike DRIVING

SHOW DRIVER COURTESY

You don't push others around on sidewalks. Don't do it in your car. Good sportsmanship pays off for motorists—in safety and in respect, says the AAA driver training book, "Sportsmanlike Driving."

Good sportsmanship is a combination of fair play and courtesy. Fair play means you know the rules. Courtesy means you observe them.

The driver who believes in fair play is careful not to break a traffic rule. He never cheats at stop signs or red lights. He takes the right-of-way or when it is safe to do so. The sportsmanlike driver does more. In addition to obeying traffic rules, he extends every act of courtesy. He gives fellow motorists every chance for safety.

Bad highway manners are dangerous. Studies of accidents show that good traffic manners by everyone would reduce traffic accidents by at least one-half.

This good driving tip is worth a try. Give the other driver a break! Road courtesy pays off! Politeness is the cheapest price for safety!

and eight warnings issued, with 14 arrests involving fines of $120.

The next meeting of the association will be in Plumsteadville, Thursday, September 18. Following adjournment of this session, the men were served refreshments by the Fairless Hills Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary.

Morrisville Water Pump Out of Working Order

MORRISVILLE, July 17 — Mayor William Burgess of Morrisville announced today that one pump at the borough water works had stopped because of a mechanical failure and would not be back in operation until noon, today. The pump has been working on a 24-hour basis all during the summer in order to provide water for the borough.

In appealing to the residents of Morrisville, Mayor Burgess asked that everyone conserve as much water as possible until the pump can be restored to duty. Burgess also thanked all local users for their cooperation during the past several weeks when a water shortage threatened many users with a complete loss of water. The water works pumps, working to capacity, can pump approximately 900,000 gallons each day which is some 300,000 gallons short of what would be needed if lawn hoses were used constantly.

To conserve the water the Borough Council has passed an ordinance making it illegal to use outside hoses except during the hours between 8 and 10 A. M.

FIFTH WARD GETS A TIGHTER GRIP ON THE LEAGUE LEAD

Fifth Ward Sporting Club increased its lead on first place in the Bristol Softball League to three and one-half games by whipping the Pacific Steel nine, 168, last evening on Memorial field.

The Warders took the lead in the third inning by scoring six times. In this frame, Stan Partky crashed out a home run with the bags loaded. The winners put the tilt on ice in the last two frames by counting seven times. Ray Pierandozzi hit a homer in the seventh with two on.

Fifth Ward had 12 hits in the contest and were aided by seven passes. Pierandozzi led the batters with three out of four. For the Pacific team, Tom Ruggieri, Frank Lucetti, and Vince DiTanna had two hits each. The latter led off in the seventh with a home run and earlier in the game had a two-bagger.

County Fire Police Elect Officers

tended the meeting at which Raymond Strunk, president, Quakertown, presided. In order to be a member of this organization, a man must be an active member of a fire company. The duties of the men are to direct traffic at fires and to control crowds on the scene. The men have police powers in such instances.

Candidates for officers for the 1952-1953 term were presented by the secretary, who cast the vote necessary for their election. Officers elected were as follows: Raymond Strunk, president; Charles Roeschen, 1st vice-president; Trevose: Robert Goulding, 2nd vice-president; Erwinna: Rudy Ober; Holtzer, secretary; Trevose Heights: William Jefferson, assistant secretary; Erwinna: William Undukofler, financial secretary; Quakertown: Harry Heller, treasurer; Trevose: George Wright, trustee; Trevose: Leonard Roberts, fire marshal; Trevose; and Robert Graham, chaplain, Chalfont.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite, Doylestown, had been invited as special guest. He spoke briefly, giving credit to the fire police for their work and complimenting the group on its large attendance in such hot weather.

The fire marshal reported that the next fire school will open in Quakertown on September 17. This will be the first course for firemen in the upper end of the county. An advanced course will be offered upon completion of this one, for all county firemen who have had the beginners' course.

It was announced that the county commissioners had appointed Robert Graham deputy sheriff to investigate fires. This followed an almost two-year effort to secure a fire marshal on county payroll.

The secretary read a letter from the University of Pennsylvania, which is seeking the aid of the organization in a survey being made at the institution. The university is making a study of the scene.

State police at Langhorne barracks investigated.

A three-car accident occurred on Route 281 (Old Lincoln highway) near Highway pool yesterday at 5:15 p. m.

According to police, a 1937 sedan, operated by Russell B. Sadker, Melrose Park, was stopped to pick up two boys. While stopped, a 1942 sedan traveling southeast on the roadway, operated by Oliver Dublin, Perrish street, Philadelphia, swerved but the machine collided into the left rear fender of Sadker's vehicle, causing the machine to go over the white line in the center of the roadway. At the same time, another car, a 1936 sedan traveling northwest on Route 281 operated by Henry Elless, Langhorne, R. D. 4, struck the left side of the Dublin machine.

One injury was reported—a male passenger in Elless's vehicle, a back injury.

Damage to the vehicles was reported to be—Dublin, $450; Sadker, $20; Elless, $125.

Dublin was arrested on charge of reckless driving and will be given a hearing.

Officer William Schramm, Bensalem township police officer, investigated.

Sportsmanlike DRIVING

SHOW DRIVER COURTESY

You don't push others around on sidewalks. Don't do it in your car. Good sportsmanship pays off for motorists—in safety and in respect, says the AAA driver training book, "Sportsmanlike Driving."

Good sportsmanship is a combination of fair play and courtesy. Fair play means you know the rules. Courtesy means you observe them.

The driver who believes in fair play is careful not to break a traffic rule. He never cheats at stop signs or red lights. It takes the right-of-way or when it is safe to do so.

The sportsmanlike driver does more. In addition to obeying traffic rules, he extends every act of courtesy. He gives fellow motorists every chance for safety.

Bad highway manners are dangerous. Studies of accidents show that good traffic manners by everyone would reduce traffic accidents by at least one-half.

and eight warnings issued, with 14 arrests involving fines of $120.

The next meeting of the association will be in Plumsteadville, Thursday, September 18. Following adjournment of this session, the men were served refreshments by the Fairless Hills Fire Company Ladies Auxiliary.

APPROVE 2 PHYSICIANS FOR BUCKS HOSPITAL

Dr. J. J. McGraw, Jr., As
Pathologist; Dr. W. L.
Mills, Radiologist

STATEMENT ON STAFF

The chairman of the public relations committee of Lower Bucks County Hospital today released for publication this second of the series concerning the hospital staff committee's activities:

"When the Lower Bucks County Hospital became a strong possibility, the hospital board of directors welcomed with renewed significance the continued active cooperation and help of the physicians practicing within the hospital service area.

"The interest of these physicians naturally is mainly in the medical personnel of the proposed hospital.

"It is of paramount importance to obtain a staff that is capable, congenial, and willing to dedicate a large part of their energies in the success of the new institution. With this idea in mind, three members of the hospital board of directors were selected to serve in the capacity of the staff committee. It is composed of Thomas Janes, as chairman; E. L. Helwig, and Frank Flatch. Likewise, the physicians selected a staff committee of Drs. A. Gonzales, E. J. McGruder, and Thomas Fannin.

"These two committees have carefully studied all medical staff applications and after numerous meetings, correspondence, and interviews, submitted to the hospital board of directors the names of John J. McGraw, Jr., M.D., as pathologist; and also William L. Mills, M.D., as radiologist. These two physicians were unanimously approved by the board of directors who will in due time contact them for final arrangements.

"Dr. McGraw, born in Syracuse, N. Y., 37 years age and has four children. A.B. degree Syracuse University in 1935. M.D. degree Syracuse University in 1938. Intern, Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia 1938-1940. Pathology resident Bryn Mawr Hospital 1940-1942. Army of the United States 1942-1946. Army record-assistant blood research division, Army Medical School commanding officer, blood transfusion unit, Italy director blood research division, Army medical school; consultant to Surgeon General on blood and plasma; assistant pathologist, Bryn Mawr hospital 1946-1947; research Fellow, Mass. General Hospital 1947-1948; assistant attending pathologist Bryn Mawr hospital 1948; instructor - pathology, graduate of medicine 1948; lecturer, hematology, University of Pennsylvania, 1948; certified American board of pathologic anatomy, 1948; certified American board clinical pathology, 1949. Author and/or co-author of many scientific papers in various medical journals and one book "Blood and Plasma Transfusions" published recently by F. A. Davis and Company.

"Dr. William L. Mills was born in Philadelphia where he received his primary education. He is married and has five children. Graduate of St. Joseph's College with a B.S. in 1940. Received his M.D. from Jefferson Medical College in 1944. Internship at Nazareth hospital, Phila., in 1944. Served as a resident in Nazareth hospital in 1947 and 1948, at Abington Memorial hospital 1948 and 1950, and at the American Oncologic hospital from 1950 to 1951. Dr. Mills is assistant in roentgenology at Nazareth hospital and co-chief in roentgenology at St. Mary's hospital, Phila. Holds memberships in the following medical societies: A.M.A., Pennsylvania medical association; Phila. county medical association; American College of radiology.

¾ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 cups diced cooked veal
½ cup quartered almonds
1 teaspoon chopped pimiento
3 cups oven-popped rice cereal
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Cook onions, garlic and celery in shortening until lightly browned. Combine curry powder, salt, pepper and flour; stir into first mixture. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth. Add veal, almonds and pimiento; simmer about 10 minutes. Combine rice cereal and butter and heat through. Arrange toasted cereal in center of platter; surround with Curried Veal. Yield: 6 servings.

Bran Butterscotch Biscuits
¾ cup all-bran
¾ cup buttermilk
1½ cups sifted flour

1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
Soak all-bran in buttermilk. Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Add soaked all-bran; stir until dough is well blended. Turn onto floured board and knead lightly. Roll dough into an oblong about ¼ inch thick. Spread with soft butter and sprinkle with brown sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll; cut into 1-inch slices. Place slices cut side down close together in greased baking pan. Bake in preheated hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 12 minutes. Yield: 12 biscuits (2½ inches in diameter).

Note: Sweet Milk Recipe: If

sweet milk is used instead of buttermilk, omit soda and increase baking powder to 3 teaspoons.

Date Bran Crumb Crust

1 cup pitted dates
¾ cup water
½ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups all-bran

2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup chopped nutmeats
Cook dates and water until a soft paste is formed. Add butter and stir until combined. Roll bran to fine crumbs. Add to date paste together with sugar and nutmeats and mix well. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan. Fill with prepared pie filling, ice cream or chilton pie filling. Yield: 1 9-inch Pie Shell.

APPROVE 2 PHYSICIANS FOR BUCKS HOSPITAL*Dr. J. J. McGraw, Jr., As Pathologist; Dr. W. L.
Mills, Radiologist*STATEMENT ON STAFF

The chairman of the public relations committee of Lower Bucks County Hospital today released for publication this second of the series concerning the hospital staff committee's activities:

"When the Lower Bucks County Hospital became a strong possibility, the hospital board of directors welcomed with renewed significance the continued active cooperation and help of the physicians practicing within the hospital service area.

"The interest of these physicians naturally is mainly in the medical personnel of the proposed hospital.

"It is of paramount importance to obtain a staff that is capable, congenial, and willing to dedicate a large part of their energies in the success of the new institution. With this idea in mind, three members of the hospital board of directors were selected to serve in the capacity of the staff committee. It is composed of Thomas Janes, as chairman; E. L. Helwig, and Frank Flatch. Likewise, the physicians selected a staff committee of Drs. A. Gonzales, E. J. McGruder, and Thomas Fannin.

"These two committees have carefully studied all medical staff applications and after numerous meetings, correspondence, and interviews, submitted to the hospital board of directors the names of John J. McGraw, Jr., M.D., as pathologist; and also William L. Mills, M.D., as radiologist. These two physicians were unanimously approved by the board of directors who will in due time contact them for final arrangements.

"Dr. McGraw, born in Syracuse, N. Y., 37 years of age and has four children. A.B. degree Syracuse University in 1935. M.D. degree Syracuse University in 1938. Intern, Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia 1938-1940. Pathology resident Bryn Mawr Hospital 1940-1942. Army of the United States 1942-1946. Army record-keeping blood research division, Army Medical School commanding officer, blood transfusion unit, Italy director blood research division, Army medical school; consultant to Surgeon General on blood and plasma; assistant pathologist, Bryn Mawr Hospital 1946-1947; research Fellow, Mass. General Hospital 1947-1948; assistant attending pathologist Bryn Mawr Hospital 1948; instructor - pathology, graduate of medicine 1948; lecturer, hematology, University of Pennsylvania, 1948; certified American board of pathologic anatomy, 1948; certified American board clinical pathology, 1949. Author and/or co-author of many scientific papers in various medical journals and one book "Blood and Plasma Transfusions" published recently by F. A. Davis and Company.

"Dr. William L. Mills was born in Philadelphia where he received his primary education. He is married and has five children. Graduate of St. Joseph's College with a B.S. in 1940. Received his M.D. from Jefferson Medical College in 1944. Internship at Nazareth hospital, Phila., in 1944. Served as a resident in Nazareth hospital in 1947 and 1948, at Abington Memorial hospital 1948 and 1950, and at the American Oncologic hospital from 1950 to 1951. Dr. Mills is assistant in roentgenology at Nazareth hospital and co-chief in roentgenology at St. Mary's hospital, Phila. Holds memberships in the following medical societies: A.M.A., Pennsylvania medical association; Phila. county medical association; American College of Radiology.

RECIPESBeef 'N' Bean Budget Dish

1 pound hamburger
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon chili powder (optional)
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 cups canned tomatoes (No. 303 can)
1 1-pound can pork and beans
Brown ground beef and onion in hot fat. Add seasonings, green pepper and tomatoes. Simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Add pork and bean and simmer another 10 minutes. 4 servings.

Picnic Barbecue Sauce

1 teaspoon fat
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup catsup
2 tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup water
Cook onion in hot fat. Add all other ingredients and simmer, uncovered, for 10 minutes.

Curried Veal

2 cups sliced onions
1/2 teaspoon minced garlic
1 cup diced celery
3 tablespoons shortening
1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 cups diced cooked veal
1/2 cup quartered almonds
1 teaspoon chopped pimiento
3 cups oven-popped rice cereal
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Cook onions, garlic and celery in shortening until lightly browned. Combine curry powder, salt, pepper and flour; stir into first mixture. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth. Add veal, almonds and pimiento; simmer about 10 minutes. Combine rice cereal and butter and heat thoroughly. Arrange toasted cereal in center of platter; surround with Curried Veal. Yield: 6 servings.

Bran Butter Scotch Biscuits

1/2 cup all-bran
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 1/2 cups sifted flour

1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon soft butter or margarine
Soak all-bran in buttermilk. Sift dry ingredients together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Add soaked all-bran; stir until dough is well blended. Turn onto floured board and knead lightly. Roll dough into an oblong about 1/4 inch thick. Spread with soft butter and sprinkle with brown sugar. Roll up like a jelly roll; cut into 1-inch slices. Place slices cut side down close together in greased baking pan. Bake in preheated hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 12 minutes. Yield: 12 biscuits (2 1/2 inches in diameter).

Note: Sweet Milk Recipe: If

sweet milk is used instead of buttermilk, omit soda and increase baking powder to 3 teaspoons.

Date Bran Crumb Crust

1 cup pitted dates
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups all-bran

2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup chopped nutmeats
Cook dates and water until a soft paste is formed. Add butter and stir until combined. Roll bran to fine crumbs. Add to date paste together with sugar and nutmeats and mix well. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of pie pan. Fill with prepared pie filling, ice cream or chilton pie filling. Yield: 1 9-inch Pie Shell.

DAPP PERFORMS DUTY OF SUPPLY SERGEANT

Croydon Man Was Recently Promoted to Grade of Staff Sergeant

MESSINA IS ASSIGNED

HQ., 19TH BOMBARDMENT WING, M. I., July 17—Sgt. Robert H. Dapp, son of Mrs. Thelma McGinley, 926 Church street, Croydon, Pa., was recently promoted to the grade of S/Sgt. Dapp is assigned to Flight "D," 11th Air Rescue Squadron (MATS) on the island of Guam. He is performing the duties of a supply sergeant.

Air Rescue Service, to which he is assigned, provides world-wide air search and rescue service for United States Air Force activities, including tactical fighter and bomber aircraft of the Far East Air Forces participating in strikes against the Communist forces in Korea. Air Rescue Service is a member of the Military Air Transport Service Organization.

Sgt. Dapp enlisted in the Air Force in August, 1949, and was assigned to Flight "D," 11th Air Rescue Squadron, in January, 1952.

Joseph J. Messina, Airman Recruit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Messina, 690 Mansion street, reported recently for temporary active duty at the Willow Grove Naval Air Station to begin his recruit airman training in the air station's new 56-day summer training program.

The recruit class, of which Messina is a member, consists of 77 men chosen competitively through mental and physical tests who have recently enlisted in the Naval Air Reserve Program at Willow Grove.

This class will receive a syllabus of training which will include: Lectures on military customs, life saving instructions, military drill, abandon ship procedure, aircraft recognition, communications, gunnery, and various technical subjects relating to naval aviation.

At the completion of this training, Messina, who is a member of Organized Reserve Fighter Squadron 932 at the air station, will again return to inactive duty, attending only his one week-end a month drill periods with his squadron.

RECIPES

- Frozen Banana Cake
3 eggs, separated
1/4 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup mashed bananas
1 cup whipping cream
1 cup crushed corn flakes
Combine egg yolks with milk and sugar. Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Cool. Fold in beaten egg whites, bananas, and whipped cream. Sprinkle half the crushed cereal flakes in bottom of freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator. Pour mixture over this and top with remaining crumbs. Freeze until firm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.
- Cereal Toffee Ice Cream
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup chopped salted peanuts
1 cup oven-popped rice cereal, crushed
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1/4 cup honey
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
1 1/2 cups chilled evaporated milk
Add sugar, peanuts, and crushed cereal to butter. Cook over low heat, stirring until sugar starts to melt. Set aside. Combine honey,

- flavorings, and salt, and slowly beat into eggs. Fold in chilled, whipped evaporated milk. Turn into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator; set control at coldest point. Freeze to mush. Place in chilled bowl. Beat light and fluffy. Stir in crunch mixture; return to tray. Freeze firm. Reset control to normal. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.
- Pineapple Stuffed Franks
1 pound frankfurters
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple (2 cups)
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
3/4 teaspoon sugar
1/4 cup chili sauce
Split frankfurters not quite through. Spread out half the franks, cut side up, in a greased baking dish. Spread with partially drained pineapple. Top with remaining split frankfurters. Cook onion in fat until tender (about 10 minutes). Stir frequently so as not to burn. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 5 minutes. Spoon sauce on franks. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. 4 to 5 servings.

- Blueberry-Plum Pie
Crust:
2 cups sifted all purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup lard
4-5 tablespoons cold water
Sift flour with salt. Using a pastry blender or two knives, cut half the lard into flour until it resembles coarse corn meal. Add remaining half of lard and cut in until it is the size of small peas. Sprinkle water, a tablespoon at a time, over different areas of the mixture and combine lightly until all particles stick together. Form pastry into a ball and cut in half. On a lightly floured board, roll half of dough to 1/8 inch thickness. Line a 9 inch pie pan.
- Filling:
2 cup blueberries
1 large can purple plums (1 pound 13 oz.)
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Combine sugar, tapioca and salt and sprinkle half on bottom crust. Wash blueberries, drain and put in pie shell with the drained and stoned plums. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Add remaining sugar mixture and cover with top crust. Slash crust to allow escape of steam and bake in 425 degree F. oven, 40-50 minutes or until crust is brown.

- Frankfurter-Macaroni Casserole
6 frankfurters
1 cup uncooked macaroni
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
2 1/2 cups kidney beans (No. 2 can)
1 teaspoon onion salt
1/4 pound processed American cheese
2 slices bacon
Cook macaroni in boiling salted water. Drain and rinse with hot water. Mix with tomato sauce, well drained kidney beans and onion salt. In a greased 1 1/2 quart casserole, put layers of the macaroni mixture, thinly sliced or grated cheese, and sliced frankfurters. Cut bacon slices in half and partially cook; lay on top of casserole. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 35-40 minutes. 4 servings.
- Cold Cuts Mold
1 cup finely chopped summer sausage or bologna
2 cups tomato juice
1 package lime gelatine
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup finely cut celery
Heat tomato juice, pour over gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add remaining ingredients and pour into mould which have been rinsed in cold water. Chill in refrigerator until firm. 4 servings.

BLIND MORRISVILLE MAN IS COG IN CD

Joseph Piechowski Directs

STAFF SEEKS AID

MORRISVILLE, July 17—Joseph Piechowski, 508 Crown street, although blind, is busy these days directing the communications division of the local Civil Defense Council.

Piechowski, who has been blind most of his life, has a staff of expert amateur radio operators, including Elmer Middleton, Ric Butterworth, Charles Elcock and Anthony Constantino, who have amateur licenses and sets in their own homes, ready to be used in any emergency.

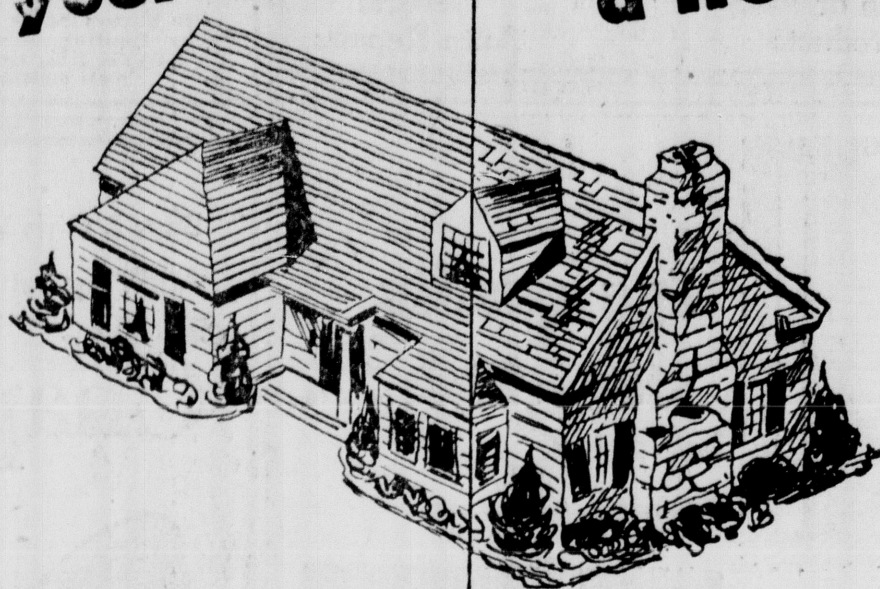

The group of men is now readying the master control station, located in defense headquarters on the fourth floor of the Stockham Building. There now, on loan, are a transmitter and a communications type of receiving set. Another transmitter is needed so that contact may be made with the Civil Air Patrol. Piechowski stated that a generator is badly needed and that state and national aid in the amount of $400 is being sought.

Piechowski became interested in radio after leaving the Overbrook School for the Blind, Philadelphia, in 1935. He failed his first test for an amateur license, but determined to pass the second try, he copied the entire license manual in Braille and succeeded.

The local CD unit is in need of operators and any persons interested are asked to contact Piechowski at his home. He and his staff will give Morse code instruction and assist the persons in passing their test for licenses. These people then will be available to serve their community on the defense council.

Piechowski, an employee of the Thermoid Rubber Company, Trenton, for the past nine years, is greatly pleased with the results shown by his staff. "I'm getting excellent co-operation in the communications division," he reported, with men who have other regular jobs but who still find time to serve their community and be ready for any emergency we might encounter."

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1952,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CHICAGO, July 17. President Truman's declaration that the Democratic convention here next week will be "open" is probably the saddest news Senator Estes Kefauver has heard since he started his uphill fight for the nomination.

So-called "open" Democratic conventions have never been open to anything but wide-scale political bargaining between political bosses, with little or no regard for the wishes of party voters.

Kefauver, during his midsummer night's dreaming about a four-year stay in the White House, has constantly deplored the bitter pre-convention wrangling of Republican contenders while trying to stir up a fight of his own with Democratic party bosses. The bosses have largely ignored him, and that is what hurts.

The Tennessee Senator can't be a knight in shining armor when there is nobody to joust with. He has ridden public revision to organized crime for all it is worth. Now he needs a new political dragon. His hopes were high that the political bosses would provide it. He expected his candidacy to frighten them into sordid political retaliation. But the bosses have declared it "no contest."

Kefauver has learned exactly what Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had to learn when the general got back from Paris. That is, that it's convention delegates, not the voters, who count in pre-convention battling. The Senator was a road show star on television and in his whistle stop campaign for public attention and delegates. In Chicago he will be lucky to obtain billing alongside the jugglers.

Democratic political bosses pursued the only course open to them insofar as Kefauver is concerned. To have attacked his candidacy publicly would have been political recognition that they feel the Senator has not earned. In disrepute themselves, the bosses wisely decided that a blast at Kefauver would also be tantamount to advocating crime since the Senator has a reputation of distaste for it. By the same token, an endorsement of Kefauver would scare away a lot of fat political contributions from dubious sources that have, down through the New and Fair Deal years, been placed under the right table at the right time.

There has been some mild sniping at the Tennessee Senator, but the heat was never really turned on. In California, a wandering band of bureaucrats, dispatched by President Truman, passed a few unkind remarks about Kefauver, but nobody really got warmed up to his work. Mr. Truman himself has been gun-shy ever since the Tennessee Senator shellacked him in the New Hampshire primary. The political bosses informed the President that Kefauver could take him hands down in a popularity contest in all 48 states. In addition, White House and big machine politicians knew too, that Kefauver was only popular in places where he isn't well known. His homeland, the South, wouldn't have him on a gold platter.

Democratic bosses, controlling most of the big delegate states, have turned convention switches for the presidential nomination on and off with huge success for the past half dozen Democratic conventions. The boys in the back room applied the same artistry to selecting a vice-president. It was Henry Wallace for Vice-President in 1940 by acclamation on the first ballot; Harry Truman in 1944 by 1031 votes on his second roll call; Alben W. Barkley by acclamation on the first roll call in 1948.

With the same bosses running the show this time, it is doubtful that Kefauver is even being considered for second place, let alone first. The Senator, of course, has denied second place ambitions, but so do almost all other convention hopefuls until the gate is slammed shut on first place.

Barring the nomination of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic bosses will be looking for a candidate who will function as a front man for the party for the next four years, assuming they anticipate defeat in November. Naturally, they want a leader with class and political acumen—their own brand. Any way you look at it, Kefauver doesn't fit the bill. The boys in the back room decided this long before the Senator from Tennessee got his road show rolling toward the White House.

Egg quality stays high ...

when eggs are cooled electrically!

To maintain highest quality fresh eggs, they should be cooled promptly and properly. And the quickest and easiest way is with electric refrigeration. Eggs can be cooled in a refrigerated storage room where there are controls for temperature, moisture, and circulation of air. Or they can be cooled in an evaporative-type cooler where water-cooled air is forced up between the eggs. Keep egg quality high this summer with electric refrigeration.

Our farm representative will be glad to give you information on choosing the best egg cooler for your farm.

Kefauver has learned exactly what Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had to learn when the general got back from Paris. That is, that it's convention delegates, not the voters, who count in pre-convention battling. The Senator was a road show star on television and in his whistle stop campaign for public attention and delegates. In Chicago he will be lucky to obtain billing alongside the jugglers.

Democratic political bosses pursued the only course open to them insofar as Kefauver is concerned. To have attacked his candidacy publicly would have been political recognition that they feel the Senator has not earned. In dispute themselves, the bosses wisely decided that a blast at Kefauver would also be tantamount to advocating crime since the Senator has a reputation of distaste for it. By the same token, an endorsement of Kefauver would scare away a lot of fat political contributions from dubious sources that have, down through the New and Fair Deal years, been placed under the right table at the right time.

There has been some mild sniping at the Tennessee Senator, but the heat was never really turned on. In California, a wandering band of bureaucrats, dispatched by President Truman, passed a few unkind remarks about Kefauver, but nobody really got warmed up to his work. Mr. Truman himself has been gun-shy ever since the Tennessee Senator shellacked him

In the New Hampshire primary. The political bosses informed the President that Kefauver could take him hands down in a popularity contest in all 48 states. In addition, White House and big machine politicians knew too, that Kefauver was only popular in places where he isn't well known. His homeland, the South, wouldn't have him on a gold platter.

Democratic bosses, controlling most of the big delegate states, have turned convention switches for the presidential nomination on and off with huge success for the past half dozen Democratic conventions. The boys in the back room applied the same artistry to selecting a vice-president. It was Henry Wallace for Vice-President in 1940 by acclamation on the first ballot; Harry Truman in 1944 by 1031 votes on his second roll call; Alben W. Barkley by acclamation on the first roll call in 1948.

With the same bosses running the show this time, it is doubtful that Kefauver is even being considered for second place, let alone first. The Senator, of course, has denied second place ambitions, but so do almost all other convention hopefuls until the gate is slammed shut on first place.

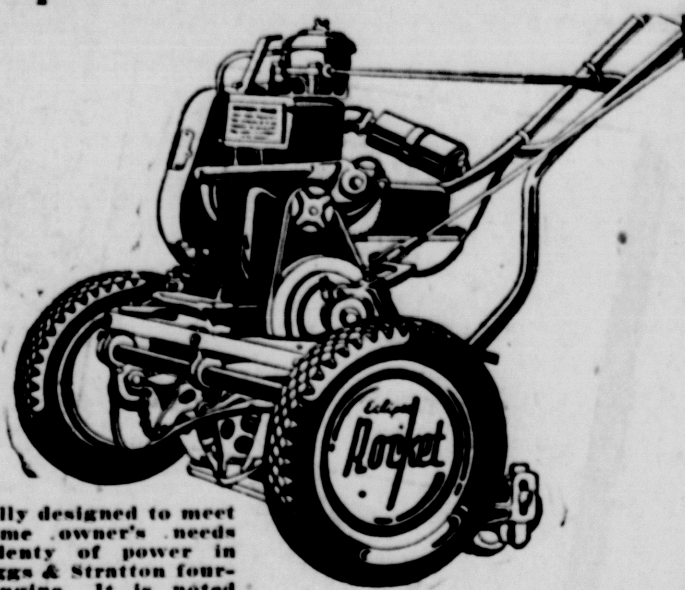

Barring the nomination of Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the Democratic bosses will be looking for a candidate who will function as a front man for the party for the next four years, assuming they anticipate defeat in November. Naturally, they want a leader with class and political acumen—their own brand. Any way you look at it, Kefauver doesn't fit the bill. The boys in the back room decided this long before the Senator from Tennessee got his road show rolling toward the White House.

Egg quality stays high...

To maintain highest quality fresh eggs, they should be cooled promptly and properly. And the quickest and easiest way is with electric refrigeration. Eggs can be cooled in a refrigerated storage room where there are controls for temperature, moisture, and circulation of air. Or they can be cooled in an evaporative-type cooler where water-cooled air is forced up between the eggs. Keep egg quality high this summer with electric refrigeration.

Our farm representative will be glad to give you information on choosing the best egg cooler for your farm.

ENJOYS REFINISHING ANTIQUE FURNITURE

E. J. Reinhardt Has Hobby That Lends Charm To The Home

CHAIR 200 YEARS OLD

By Staff Reporter
LEVITTOWN, July 17 — E. J. Reinhardt finds that his evenings at home are as filled with activity as are his days in the Philadelphia jewelry store where he is employed. For his house on Stonybrook Drive holds many antique pieces which he likes to collect, and which he loves to re-finish.

In fact both Mr. and Mrs. Reinhardt agree on this hobby, for several of the smaller pieces have been painted with Pennsylvania Dutch designs by the distaff side of the household.

Five bent arrow-back chairs, with plank seats, are prized by the Reinhardts, and these soon will have attractive new finishes. The Reinhardts follow the antique sales, going to Gilbertsville area quite often, and to various points in the Pocono mountains. And when they make a "find" there is keen anticipation as plans are made for the re-furbishing.

"We would like someday to have an old Bucks county stone house in which to arrange our antiques," said Mrs. Reinhardt, as she glanced at a dough-trough used years and years ago when it was the custom to make bread in the home. The dough-trough serves as a cabinet and a lamp table. In the Reinhardt family for several generations, and dating back 200 years, is a rare Windsor spindle back chair with saddle seat. A carriage seat has been mounted on legs and serves as a seat by the fire-place.

The head of the household is now engaged in refinishing two pine wash-stands for use as end tables. An old Lincoln pine chest is another prize piece, this being used in by-gone days to hold old-fashioned wash-bowl, pitcher, etc., also for towel storage. This was house-warming gift from a friend in Maine. A folding cherry sewing table has been in the family for 1½ centuries; and a marble top table for 100 years.

An unpainted reproduction of a Quaker bench is to be properly finished, and a long pillow-pad made for it.

Among the smaller pieces, used "decoratively" or for practical use, are: candle mould, antique lamps, vases, jugs, bottles, plates, pieces of pressed-glass and milk-glass. Mrs. Reinhardt hopes to have a plate raff made to hold the plates.

In Mrs. Reinhardt's "department" are to be found a complete dinner set, Cauldon ware made in England, in blue and white, this being a gift from an old friend; a 75-year-old oval-shaped lunch pail painted with Penna. Dutch designs. "It's just the thing in which to keep potato chips crisp", comments the house-wife. Her spice set, 12 pieces in pansy design, was made in Germany. She also prizes two Royal Doulton plates in blue and white.

On the fire-place are to be found

A Series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, July 17 — A diamond buyer is among the newcomers to this community. He is E. J. Reinhardt, assistant to the diamond buyer of J. E. Caldwell Co. Philadelphia.

Mr. Reinhardt together with Mrs. Reinhardt and their son, Donald, are now "at home" at 83 Stonybrook drive. Donald will be four years old next month. The family moved here from Wallingford, Delaware county.

The head of the house served with the U. S. Army in Italy during World War II. He has more than one hobby, but one of them is the collecting of rifles and guns. Among those in his collection is a Civil War rifle which has a detachable bayonet. This collection he expects to "house" in the closet of the room adjoining the living room. With the sliding panel-wall closed, this will become a den, the closet to be finished in knotty pine as a background for gun racks.

The den should become a most interesting spot, with the guns, the deer skins, stuffed pheasants and other birds.
